

Jesse Silva

Jesse Silva enters the protection industry deeply devoted to the ethics, integrity and honor that is the essence of executive protection. His efforts in each of his protective endeavors are focused and unrelenting in the pursuit of maintaining his client's safety and well being. Jesse's abilities have developed through the past twelve years in the private security and surveillance industry. The core of his experience falls in and around the casino industry where he has protected the assets of major gaming properties throughout Nevada. He has developed acute observation skills through constant behavior analysis and examination of the varied patrons of casinos that he now applies to protecting clients in his care.

Jesse has fulfilled numerous covert surveillance and investigative duties in non-gaming related private capacities. Graduating from E.S.I.'s Advanced Executive Protection Program in 2000, he endeavors to offer protection services in and around the Las Vegas area, utilizing his deep knowledge of the gaming and resort atmosphere to offer prospective clients a unique and necessary service. A lifetime martial arts practitioner, Jesse concentrates on continued training in areas such as physical fitness and firearms training, and pays particular attention to constantly increasing his medical, human behavioral and protective intelligence knowledge. In preparing to enter into the executive protection business, he has also sought training in areas such as Interview and Interrogation Techniques, attended a Dale Carnegie Course and has attended numerous management training classes and seminars. This additional training allows Jesse the ability to move about professional business circles with ease and confidence.
